

Hallsville School Parent Newsletter May/June, 2016

Happy May, everyone! The drawing above pretty much sums up how things are at Hallsville right now! There are so many things going on in the last five weeks of school! I have tried to capture everything here for you, but please check out our website for up-to-the-minute information, because some things are still subject to change. Also, there will be additional important notices coming home, so please check your child's folder daily so he/she/you don't miss out.

Here are some things to take note:

- There are more and more children on the playground prior to 8:15. The children are unsupervised prior to that time, and there have been problems between some students. For their safety, please do not send your children to Hallsville early.
- This is Teacher Appreciation Week! Thank you to all of our teachers and staff! Everyone enjoyed their wonderful luncheon provided by the PTG!
- Progress reports were sent home today.
- Participation in any field trip requires a signed permission slip. This is School Board policy. Children who do not have permission will stay at the school and participate with another grade level.
- Important end-of-year District Assessments, iReady testing, and 4th Grade NECAP Science testing will be given during the month of May. Each grade level and/or class has their own schedule of assessments. Sending your child to school well-rested and on time each day will enable him/her to "show what you know."
- Hallsville T-shirt sales are going on. Look for the order form.
